K) For each person in a household, the survey asked if they would move out if additional housing were available in their community.

L) In the majority of the occupied dwellings below housing standards in Resolute, at least one person or a group of household members would move out if more housing were available.

M) Out of the 90 or so persons living in a dwelling below housing standards, 70 of them or about three-quarters responded that they would move out if more housing units were available in their community.

N) Of the 70 or so people who would move out, some of them would move out on their own and others would move out with people living in the same dwelling or elsewhere. This represents a total of 30 groups of people that would move out of their current housing if additional housing were available.
